STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE PRESENTED

1. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred as a matter of law by awarding the professional fees and expense reimbursements in the challenged Order without first requiring the professional fee applicant to establish through sufficient admissible evidence the reasonableness of the professional, paraprofessional, and other compensation rates — which, for some estate professionals approximated $1,000.00 per hour of compensation time, regardless of the particular professional or paraprofessional at issue — as required by, among other sources of law, Section 330(a)(3)(B) of Title 11, and as a critical component of a lodestar fee analysis?

2. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred as a matter of law by awarding the professional fees and expense reimbursements in the challenged Order without first requiring the professional fee applicant to establish through sufficient admissible evidence the reasonableness of the professional, paraprofessional, and other compensation rates — which, for some estate professionals approximated $1,000.00 per hour of compensation time, regardless of the particular professional or paraprofessional at issue — as required by, among other sources of law, Section 330(a)(3)(F) of Title 11, and as a critical component of a lodestar fee analysis?

3. Whether the Bankruptcy Court clearly erred in finding the amount of compensation and expense reimbursements it awarded through the challenged Order was reasonable under Section 330 of Title 11 given the dearth of evidence offered specifically on the issue of whether the professional and paraprofessional compensation rates were reasonable within the meaning Section 330 of Title 11 and the governing and persuasive caselaw construing the same?

4. Whether the Bankruptcy Court abused its discretion in awarding the professional compensation and expense reimbursements through the challenged Order based on the record either presented by or advanced on behalf of the professional?
